Driver Training session with the Institute of Advanced Motorists followed by a visit to a National Trust property.

Nr Taunton, Somerset

Sunday 18th April

According to the advert, cats prefer IAMS so I suppose our Peugeot lions will also enjoy IAM – although this time, we're talking about the Institute of Advanced Motorists! This is a chance to meet a qualified observer who will be a passenger in your car while you drive a pre-determined route along normal roads. The idea of the session is not to declare whether you are a good driver (or not!), but to increase awareness of advanced driving skills. There is no test involved!! This is a free session, normally only available to IAM members at £35 per person. Please register your interest well in advance so we can have the right number of observers available.
